Feb 25th, 2009

Chicago, IL – The NY Metropolitan Transportation Authority (NY MTA) has hired Accenture Consulting Services to implement their shared services initiative that will consolidate some back office functions and is expected to save the agency millions of dollars annually. The program is a cornerstone of the agency's institutional transformation initiative, which aims to reduce redundancy in operations wherever possible. Next Generation, Inc. will assist Accenture Consulting Services at various levels such as Peoplesoft implementation expertise, Shared Services Management Consulting, GEAC Subject Matter Experts.

About NY MTA

The MTA, through its subsidiary and affiliated agencies, operates North America's largest transportation network. MTA agencies' subways, busses, and railroads provide 2.4 billion trips each year to New Yorkers – the equivalent of about one in every three users of mass transit in the United States and two-thirds of the nation's rail riders. MTA Bridges and Tunnels carries more than 300 million vehicles a year – more than any bridge and tunnel authority in the nation. MTA is responsible for most mass transit in New York City and the suburbs to the east and north, encompassing 12 New York State counties and extended into Connecticut, a 5,000 square-mile service area with a population of 14.6 million.
